1 Introduction

This policy sets out the framework for the London Borough of Hillingdon (Hillingdon Council) to carry out routine safety inspections for highways maintainable at public expense for which it is responsible.

The Highways Act 1980 Section 41 requires Hillingdon Council to maintain the highways for which it is responsible. Section 58 of the Act provides a statutory defence to a claim for breach of the Section 41 duty to maintain. This document provides a framework for Hillingdon Council to use that defence. This policy has therefore been prepared with the primary aim of providing assistance to those carrying out highway safety inspections, with consistency and clear, recognised and understood criteria.

This policy has been developed to meet the demands of the Highways Act and addresses the specific matters above by:

i) Carrying out regular inspections to meet the character of the highway
ii) Applying investigatory criteria to the severity of a defect i.e. what constitutes ‘dangerous’
iii) Carrying out general repairs to the highway
iv) Taking action to minimise the potential of a defect developing further
v) Taking such action to make a dangerous defect safe, either by barriers or immediate repair to remove the danger.

This policy supersedes all previous approaches to highway inspection and repair within the Borough and sets out the policy on how damaged or faulty highway assets that may create a danger or serious inconvenience to highway users are managed through a system of inspection, risk assessment and repair.

The Well-Managed Highway Infrastructure - A Code of Practice highlights the need for a risk-based approach to all highways policies, and Hillingdon Council inspections have been modified in light of particular local circumstances and the relative risks and consequences associated with these. In accordance with the Code of Practice, Hillingdon Council has reviewed the inspection regime, including defect assessment and categorisation. The policy has been developed through consultation within Council departments, including Asset Management, Safety Inspectors, Highway Engineers, Street Works Officers, Legal Representatives, and Risk and Insurance professionals, as well as benchmarking the inspection regime with neighbouring boroughs. The guidance documents produced by the London Technical Advisory Group (LoTAG) were also considered while preparing the policy.

2 Purpose of Inspection

The purpose of highway maintenance is to provide a highway network, which is safe and convenient for the movement of road users. Safety inspections are designed to identify all defects likely to create danger or serious inconvenience to users of the network or the wider community. This includes defects that require urgent attention (within 4 hours) as well as those where the location and reduced level of severity is such that a longer response time is acceptable or confirm that no repair is needed. Highway Safety Inspections:

- Identify defects which should be repaired as part of a maintenance programme to arrest further deterioration and avoid more serious problems developing.
- Demonstrate a structured inspection regime, which can provide evidence for the Highway Authority to defend claims.

3 Network Hierarchy

A network hierarchy is primarily a categorisation of roads, footways and cycleways by their respective use and function. It is acknowledged that the network hierarchy and inventory form the base for coherent consistent maintenance strategy. These form the link between maintenance policy and implementation, assisting with:

- Determining appropriate inspection frequencies,
- The allocation of resources and maintenance priority.

The key purpose of a road hierarchy is to ensure the orderly grouping of roadways in a framework around which the Council can plan and maintain the highway network effectively and efficiently. It reflects the needs, priorities and actual use of each road in the network. Hence, the network hierarchy will provide a balanced approach to determining the appropriate, safe and convenient use of all roads. Based on the guidance in Recommendation 12 (A.4.3.11–A.4.3.18) of the Code of Practice, London Borough of Hillingdon has considered the guidance in terms of local application, embracing a detailed understanding of the local highway network, and developed road, footway and cycleway categories. The network hierarchy has been reviewed considering the inspection regimes of neighbouring highway authorities, as per Recommendation 5 (A.2.3) of the Code of Practice.

The network hierarchy will be reviewed when factors such as changes to national guidance or best practice occur.

3.1 Carriageway Hierarchy

The carriageway hierarchy is primarily determined by road classification, with due regard to functionality, traffic use, characteristics and trends. The hierarchy has been determined based on this information and is in line with UK road classification, as shown below.

Table 1: Carriageway Hierarchy

Hierarchy	Functionality definition	Detailed Description	Category	Length (m)
Main Distributor	All principal roads and high traffic flow routes	Routes linking Strategic Routes and to the Strategic Network	A	51,662
Secondary Distributor	Traffic sensitive, classified roads, Medium traffic flow	Routes linking main distributor network	B	20,343
Link Road	Minor traffic volume	Routes linking secondary distributor; residential and industrial interconnecting roads.	C	52,700
Residential / Local Access	Low traffic volume	Residential loop roads; access to individual properties and land	U	574,151

3.2 Footway Hierarchy

The footway hierarchy is determined by functionality and actual use. Local factors, such as proximity to town centres, shopping parades, schools, hospitals and stations attracting higher than normal pedestrian numbers, are taken into account. The maintenance categories recommended for footways are shown below:

Table 2: Footway Hierarchy

Hierarchy	Functionality definition	Detailed Description	Category	Length (m)
Primary Walking Route	Town centres, shopping centres, train stations	Busy town centre and business areas, main pedestrian routes	1	14,197
Secondary Walking Route	High usage Shopping parades, stations	Medium usage routes through local areas feeding into primary routes, local shopping centres	2	5,437
Link Footway	Medium usage route	Medium usage routes providing a link for a residential area to the primary and secondary walking routes	3	46,824
Local Access Footway	Low pedestrian volume	Urban low usage footways, usually on housing estates.	4	1,148,302

3.3 Cycleway Hierarchy

The cycleway hierarchy is determined by where they are situated, and inspections are undertaken as part of the footway and carriageway inspections as listed below:

Table 3: Cycleway Hierarchy

Hierarchy Description	Category	Length (m)
Part of carriageway - Cycle Lane, Part of Footway - Cycle Track	A	8,890
Remote from carriageway - Cycle Path	B	38,520
Cycle Trails	C	31,480

4 Inspection Frequency

The frequency of inspection adopted by the Borough reflects the needs, priorities and actual use of each road in the network. The frequencies take into account national guidelines for the risk-based approach in accordance with local needs. In some instances, a particular highway may have varying inspection frequencies at different locations along its length. The general inspection frequencies are stated in Table 4.

The existing road hierarchy and inspection frequencies were reviewed to comply with the new Code of Practice, together with benchmarking against neighbouring boroughs for consistency with other local authorities. The new hierarchy and classification are based on Hillingdon's risk assessment and available resources.

Table 4: Inspection Frequencies

Feature	Hierarchy Description	Category	Length (m)	Frequency
Roads	Main Distributor	A	51,662	1 month
	Secondary Distributor	B	20,343	1 month
	Link Road	C	52,700	3 months
	Local Access	U	574,151	1 year
Footways	Primary Walking Route	1	14,197	1 month
	Secondary Walking Route	2	5,437	3 months
	Link Footway	3	46,824	3 months
	Local Access Footway	4	1,148,30	1 year
Cycleways	Cycle Lane or Track	A	8,890	As for roads and footways
	Cycle Path	B	38,520	As for footways 6 months
	Cycle Trail	C	31,480	1 year
Public Rights of Way (PRoW)			112,000	1 Year

4.1 Inspection Frequency Compliance

While every effort will be made to achieve the frequency of inspection shown in Table 4, on occasion the effect of weather, workload, inspector availability or for other operational reasons it is possible that the specified inspection frequencies cannot be met. In such circumstances the missed inspection will be undertaken within the first week of the following month. If an inspection cannot be undertaken within this period, this must be reported to the manager immediately.

4.2 Inspection Schedule

The inspection schedule is managed through the 'Insight - Symology' system. The work is scheduled by the system depending on the inspection frequency and actual due date. All inspections to undertaken during a given month are shown on the system as being due on the beginning of the month. At the beginning of each month the inspectors download the inspection routes to be undertaken during the month and the inspections are completed within that month.

5 Items for Inspection

The items and the typical defects/risks that are assessed as part of the inspection process are listed in the table 5 below. The list is not exhaustive and persons carrying out the safety inspections are requested to record any defect that might create a hazard to users of the highway.

Table 5: Inspection Items Description

Item	Scope of defects/risks to be identified
Carriageways	Surface defects (potholes, depression, cracking, rutting, crowning, uneven surface)
	Edge defects (edge deterioration, depression)
	High Friction Surfacing defects (worn/slippery surface)
	Mud, debris, spillage or contamination on running surfaces
	Obstructions (debris)
	Flooding (depression, blocked gullies)
	Markings and road studs defects (worn/missing marking, damaged/missing/displaced studs)
	Covers and gratings defects (rattling, difference in level)
	Ironwork defects (damaged/broken covers)
	Kerb defects (missing/dislocated, damaged, missing fillets causing trip)
Footways and Cycleways	Surface defects (rocking/cracked slabs, abrupt level difference, longitudinal or transverse cracking or gaps, depression)
	Kerbs and edge defects including missing and projecting kerbs
	Highway weeds causing slippery surfaces or trips
	Mud, debris, spillage or contamination on running surfaces
	Obstructions (A-board, bins)
	Loss of mortar/grout
Public Rights of Way	Surface defects (trip hazards, potholes)
	Overhanging vegetation

Item	Scope of defects/risks to be identified
	Unlawful obstruction
	Integrity of stiles and gates etc.
Drainage	Blocked gullies causing a water hazard
	Slow-running gullies causing a water hazard
	Accumulation of water on carriageways, footways and cycle routes
Landscaped Areas and Trees (incl. hedges)	Root growth causing surface irregularity
	Trees or hedges overgrowing the footway or carriageway such that a hazard is presented
	Basal growth causing obstruction
	Unstable trees or branches
	Overgrown hedges, grass or vegetation causing inadequate visibility, particularly at junctions or pedestrian crossings
	Trees and vegetation obscuring signs or street lights constituting a hazard to users
Road Markings and Studs	Loose studs – potential for damage and injury
	Severely worn pedestrian crossing markings
	Worn or missing markings constituting a hazard to highway users
Traffic Signs and Bollards	Missing or damaged bollards – hazard
	Missing, damaged, obscured or mis-directed signs constituting a hazard to highway users (for example, missing "no entry" signs)
	Unstable signs, signals or posts in danger of collapse
	Obscured signs
Fences and Barriers	Missing or damaged pedestrian guard rail
	Missing or damaged safety fence
	Integrity and location of safety fencing for both vehicles and pedestrians
Traffic Signals, Pedestrian and Cycle Crossings	Exposed wiring
	Unstable signal post

Item	Scope of defects/risks to be identified
	Malfunctioning or inoperative traffic signals
Street Furniture	Damaged or missing bollards
	Damaged litter bins, cabinets etc. causing a hazard to pedestrians
Condition of Street Lighting / Illuminated Signs and Bollards	Damaged or defective lighting columns/illuminated signs and bollards
	Exposed wiring in lamp columns, bollards or cabinets
	Structurally damaged lamp columns in danger of collapse
Temporary Traffic Management and Highway Licences	Chapter 8 not followed
	Signing of obstructions, such as skips and scaffolding
Bridges	Accident damage to:
	Structures and supports
	Parapets
	Drainage systems
	Insecure expansion joints etc.
Debris	Debris in the footway or carriageway constituting a hazard to vehicles or pedestrians
	Oil, loose grit or gravel or other debris in the carriageway causing a skidding hazard

While inspecting any street, the officer must record hazardous defects as stated above, while considering the following:

a) Defects not under Ownership of the Council:

During an inspection, defects may be identified which are not the responsibility of the Council to repair. The officer involved in this activity shall therefore take steps to ensure that the party responsible for the repair is made aware of the defect and, if necessary, take interim action to make the defect temporarily safe. The decision will be based on a local risk assessment by the Highway Inspector and related to the level of risk presented at the time.

b) Statutory Undertakers Defective apparatus (Section 81 NRSWA 1991):

Where an inspector identifies a defective utility apparatus, this must be recorded on the inspection stating where possible the undertaker concerned. This information is passed onto the relevant utility for appropriate action.

c) Defective reinstatements (Section 72 NRSWA 1991):

Where an inspector identifies a defective reinstatement belonging to a Statutory Undertaker, this must be recorded stating where possible the Undertaker concerned and passed onto the relevant utility for appropriate action.

6 Risk Assessment

Recommendation 14 and Section A.5 of the Code of Practice recommend that the safety inspection regime and defect repair regime should be risk based. This means assessing the likely impact should the risk occur and the probability of it happening. There are four basic steps to this process.

6.1 Impact Assessment

Should the risk become an incident, there is a clear link to the physical characteristics of the defect or hazard. The table below sets out the impact definitions.

The impact of a risk occurring is measured on a scale of 1 – 3 (1 lowest, 3 highest). The following table gives guidance:

Table 6: Impact Assessment Rating

Impact rating	Score	Description	Possible indicators
High	3	The Hazard presented by the defect, or due to the short-term structural deterioration in the defect, could result in serious injury or a fatality.	Impact will result in serious damage to persons or property. Highway users will instinctively react to avoid the defect and this will place them in peril. The defect could destabilise a vehicle and this will place highway users in peril.
Medium	2	The Hazard presented by the defect, or due to the short-term structural deterioration in the defect, could result in injury or claim against the Authority.	Impact will result in damage to persons or property, from which they are likely to recover. Highway users will instinctively react to avoid the defect. The defect could destabilise a vehicle.

Impact rating	Score	Description	Possible indicators
Low	1	The Hazard presented by the defect, or due to the short-term structural deterioration in the defect, is unlikely to result in injury or claim against the Authority. If untreated the defect will contribute to the deterioration in the overall condition of the Highway Asset. The defect is likely to deteriorate further before the next safety inspection.	The defect will be recognised by Highway Inspectors as requiring attention, but is unlikely recognised as a defect by most Highway users. The defect is very unlikely to cause injury.

6.2 Probability Assessment

The probability of a risk occurring is quantified by assessing the likelihood of highway users encountering the defect or hazard. The probability of a risk occurring is measured on a scale of 1 – 3:

Table 7: Probability Assessment Rating

Probability rating	Score	Description	Possible indicators
High	3	High chance of occurrence.	Vehicular, cycle and / or pedestrian flows are high. A high percentage of vulnerable users may pass through the site. The location of the defect and the topography of the site will mean that it is difficult to a highway user to recognise and hence avoid the defect. Forward visibility may be compromised.
Medium	2	Medium chance of occurrence.	Vehicular, cycle or pedestrian flow may be high, but differing modes are less likely to share the Highway at this location. Responsible Highway users may be able to recognise and take action to mitigate the impact of the defect. Forward visibility is good.
Low	1	Low chance of occurrence.	Vehicular, cycle or pedestrian flows are moderate or low. Different transport modes are unlikely to share the Highway at this location.

Probability rating	Score	Description	Possible indicators
			The majority of responsible Highway users will be able to recognise and take action to mitigate the impact of the defect.

6.3 Risk Factor

The risk factor is the product of the impact and the probability and determines the seriousness of the risk. The risk matrix determines the risk factor from the impact and probability assessments which is intended as a guide for highway inspectors to enable them to identify defects that present a foreseeable risk of injury or damage to users of the highway.

Table 8: Risk Assessment Matrix

	Probability / Likelihood
Impact	Low	Medium	High
Low	1	2	3
Medium	2	4	6
High	3	6	9

Having identified a particular risk, assessed its likely impact and probability and calculated the risk factor, the category and the timescale to rectify the defect can be defined as a Category 1 response or allocated to a locally determined Category 2 defect. The response category is represented in Table 9 below:

Table 9: Defect Categorisation

Risk factor	Response category	Symology priority	Response time
9	Cat 1 Emergency Call Out (ECO)	1	4 hours
6	Cat 2H	2	14 Days
4	Cat 2M	3	28 days
3 to 1	Cat 2L	4	3 Months

The need and priority of any treatment applied vary depending on the following factors, in accordance with the risk evaluation and management process stated above:

- The depth, surface area, or other extent of the defect
- The location of the defect relative to highway features such as junctions, bends and pedestrian crossing points (including designated pedestrian crossing points)

- The location of the defect relative to the positioning of users', especially vulnerable users, such as in traffic lanes, wheel tracks or at crossing points
- The nature and extent of interaction with other defects
- Forecast weather conditions, especially potential for freezing of surface water
- Level of use.

7 Defect Repairs

The main driver of this policy is to have a highway safety inspection and repair regime that ensures the safety of highway users wherever possible, while remaining proportionate to risk and achievable. Defects identified will be categorised depending on the risk and impact associated with them. Defects that are likely to create danger or serious inconvenience to users of the network or the wider community will require emergency or urgent attention, while defects where the location and size allow a longer response period may be acceptable. The level of response is determined with reference to the risk response matrix (Table 9), together with inspector judgement. Inspectors have full discretion to escalate the response if they consider it necessary, given the character of the defect and its location.

7.1 Categories of defect and response times

Defects are categorised as:

- Category 1: defects presenting the highest risk of harm to the public, thus requiring immediate attention to secure, guard, warn, or make safe. For the most serious emergencies a Cat 1 Emergency call out (ECO) up to 4 hours response may be required by the Rapid Response Team.
- Category 2: these are defects that require some further action and are divided into high, medium and low by the risk assessment score.
    - Cat 2H: These require a permanent repair within 14 days.
    - Cat 2M: These require a permanent repair within 28 days.
    - Cat 2L: These require a permanent repair within 3 months.

The response times for Cat 2 repairs may in exceptional circumstances be affected by statutory holidays, plant shutdowns and sustained inclement weather.

Repair Standards:

Cat1 ECO repairs will be made safe by signing, covering or by temporary repair.

Cat 2 repairs will always be permanent repairs.

Temporary and permanent repairs will be carried out to the standards set out in the Specification for Reinstatement of Openings in Highways (SROH) and Specification for Highway Works (SHW.)

7.2 Out of Hours response

The Council provides an out-of-hours standby service for emergencies. During an out-of-hours emergency, calls are answered by the contact centre and the details are provided to the highway emergency response team to attend. The Council is only able to deal with emergencies that are likely to have a significant impact on safety. Emergencies cover a range of situations, including road traffic accidents, collapse of footway/carriageway, severe flooding, etc.

7.3 Accident claim automatic repair

Whenever an accident is reported any defect will be assessed for repair whether it reaches the investigatory level or not.

8 Investigatory Levels

It is recognised that on any highway network, a multitude of minor defects will exist which do not pose any risk to either the safety or the integrity of the highway, and for which it may be impractical and inefficient to expend limited financial resources to undertake repairs. Investigatory levels provide guidance to highway officers on which defects should be considered for treatment. The key to selecting the appropriate action for a defect is the risk assessment process. All defects from the list of assets to be inspected that meet the investigatory level should be evaluated, and the likelihood of injury or damage to a highway user assessed. This approach helps to ensure that defect repairs are appropriately planned, resourced and completed to the correct standard.

The investigatory levels are listed below in the table 10.

(Note: Minimum Investigatory Levels are provided as a guide only. Should the inspector, following risk assessment, deem it necessary to record any specific defect at a higher level, then they should do so).

Table 10: Investigatory Levels

Item	Defect	Investigatory Level
Carriageways	Pothole / depression (depth/width)	>40mm & >200mm
	Pothole / depression (depth/width)	>40mm & <200mm
	Standing water / water flowing onto public highway / blocked drain	> 1/3 width of carriageway and > 40mm deep
Cycleways	Pothole / depression (depth only)	25-40mm
Controlled crossing points (zebra, pelican, puffin, toucan etc)	Pothole / depression (depth only)	25-40mm

Signs / bollards / pedestrian guardrails	Damaged / misaligned item causing a hazard (including sign fixings)	Defect present
Footway	Trip/pothole/sunken cover	> 20mm
	Rocking flagstones / block	> 20mm vertical movement
	Loose kerbs (All)	50mm horizontal 20mm vertical
	Missing kerb section	> 20mm
	Depression / ponding	>1m sq & >40mm deep
	Horizontal gap (paving slabs)	>20mm wide & >20mm deep
	Fillets / open joints	>20mm wide & >20mm deep

9 Highway Inspection Process

The safety inspection regime is applied and recorded systematically and consistently. The Well-managed Highway Infrastructure Code of Practice states that authorities should determine the most appropriate way to undertake inspections in order to clearly observe any defects for each asset type. This may include inspections from a slow-moving vehicle or, in busy urban areas and particularly when inspecting footways, walking inspections. The inspections are carried out in accordance with the following requirements:

- All highway safety inspections will be carried out to the frequencies detailed in table 4. Highway Risk Management Inspection reports are part of the evidence used to show that the highway authority has acted reasonably
- The purpose of highway safety inspections is to identify all defects in the adopted highway that are likely to create danger or serious inconvenience to users of the network or the wider community and to arrange for their remedy. Particular attention will be given to factors affecting the more vulnerable users of the highway such as the elderly, people with disabilities, cyclists and motor cyclists.
- Highway safety inspections will not be carried out during the hours of darkness/dusk or under conditions of poor visibility e.g. snow, fog, heavy rain. Periods of peak traffic flows should be avoided where possible.
- All routine scheduled Safety Inspections will be undertaken by area based highways officers within the Highways Department. Every inspection undertaken shall be recorded on a mobile device at the time of inspection. The mobile device records the time of inspection, defect information if any. The results of routine safety inspections shall be downloaded to the Insight Symology database following completion of the inspection. If no defects are recorded as a result of inspection, inspector shall update the system stating 'no defects were identified during the inspection'.

- During the inspection, if a CAT1 defect is identified, the rapid response team will be called out to attend the site within 4 hours. An out-of-hours emergency call-out is attended by a senior highway officer and operative. A works order is issued using the appropriate priority codes associated with the defects. Photographs will be taken of each defect raised to help show the location and severity of the defect. These will all be stored and accessible through the database.
- It is recognised that parked vehicles can present a visual obstruction to the inspection process. However, it is also recognised that removal of all parked vehicles from large sections of the highway would cause major disruption to residents, be difficult to enforce and be impractical where no alternative parking is available. The Highway Officer must do all that is reasonably practicable to ensure that any defects are identified and recorded.
- Defects associated with a Statutory Undertaker will be recorded on the data capture device and the defects, section 81 (utility apparatus e.g. rattling/missing/damaged covers) and section 71 (reinstatement of excavation) and notices will be processed. Where possible any associated costs will be charged to the undertaker.
- Where a safety defect is made safe by means of temporary signing or repair, arrangements will be made to ensure the continued integrity of the signing or repair until a permanent repair can be completed. The nature of these arrangements will be defined through risk assessment.

A flow chart for the safety inspection process is as follows:

9.1 Method of Inspection

Safety inspections are undertaken by a Highway Inspector, either driven in a slow-moving, conspicuously marked vehicle or on foot. All footways will have walked inspections at the recommended frequency detailed in Table 4, and the carriageways will also be inspected during these walked inspections. Only carriageways will be inspected by driven inspection, depending on the hierarchy.

9.1.1 Walked Inspections

The highway inspector shall have due regard to their personal safety and in particular from moving traffic either on the main highway or at junctions and crossings. All footway inspections will be carried out on foot. A walked inspection involves an officer wearing a high visible jacket who will walk down one side of the footway observing defects on the footway and to the centre line of the carriageway. The officer then performs the same procedure on the other side of the road recording defects using a handheld data capture device. All notes are recorded on a handheld device and passed onto the implementation team.

9.1.2 Driven Inspection

The highway inspectors shall have due regard to their personal safety and in particular the potential hazards from moving traffic and the presence of pedestrians either on the main highway or at junctions and crossings. On no account must they present or put themselves in any hazardous situation. Safety inspections must be carried out in such a manner so as to avoid any disruption to traffic, therefore inspections will be carried out off-peak on the busier routes.

Where a vehicle is used the speed would be sufficiently slow to identify defects but mindful of the effect on other traffic. The driven inspection is undertaken by two people with the passenger carrying out the inspection and recording the data. Each carriageway will be driven in both directions with no undue delay in completing each carriageway. If any defect is observed but its position is not located adequately, a further inspection must be carried out to confirm the location on another pass.

9.2 Recording of Defects and Inspection Data

In order for the Authority to defend potential claims, all data arising from highway safety inspections is recorded in a format that enables retrieval using a variety of search criteria. The inspections are carried out using a handheld data capture device in Hillingdon Council's asset management system, 'Insight - Symology'. If no work is ordered as a result of the inspection, the computer system will automatically record that no orders were created, indicating that no defects were identified during the inspection.

9.2.1 Locating and recording defects

To ensure the repair team can quickly identify the precise defect, it is essential that the information provided is simple and easily understood.

In order to locate a defect effectively, the repair team requires the following information:

- The location of the defect along the length of the highway.
- The position of the defect across the width of the highway
- The size and type of defect

Defects shall be marked with temporary road marking paint only where necessary, to enable the repair team to locate them quickly.

9.2.2 Location along the length

This information should be clear, precise and easily understood. This will reduce any lost productivity time of the repair team used to locate a specific defect. Ideally a combination of the following information should be recorded:

- Street name / road number
- House number / building name
- Distance and direction from nearest road junction

- Street lighting (S/L) column number

9.2.3 Location across the width

This information is essential for assisting the repair team to precisely locate the defect, identified by the inspector.

- Examples
- Channel of carriageway
- On verge
- At start of radius.
- Adjacent to
- On pedestrian crossing
- In central reservation
- In slow / fast lane

9.2.4 Size and type of defect

When describing a defect, the inspector must clearly state the description of the defect and its approximate size, where applicable. This will enable the repair team to collect the correct materials to carry out the repair.

Descriptions such as ‘pothole’, ‘broken flags’ and ‘damaged kerbs’ do not convey enough information for the repair team to carry out a repair efficiently. It is essential that all the information required to carry out the repair is recorded by the inspector and passed onto the repair team.

9.3 Ad-hoc Inspections

A highways enquiry received from a member of the public, councillors, a Member of Parliament or other stakeholders is assigned to the relevant highways inspector to investigate. The highways inspector will investigate the enquiry within a timescale appropriate to the perceived urgency. The inspection details will be recorded in the Hillingdon Council asset management system, as stated in Process Chart 5. The repair of any defects is actioned in accordance with the criteria contained in this policy document.

If resources are available extra ad-hoc inspections may be carried out on areas of increased deterioration, regularly obstructed areas and other roads.

9.4 Public Rights of Way Inspections

A public path, or public right of way is a route over which the public have a right to pass and re-pass. Public rights of way are part of the wider public highway network. These inspections are undertaken by the Rights of Way Officer within Highways. The public rights of way are recorded on the definitive map and statement. The inspection frequency and defect identification criteria are detailed in table 4.

9.5 New Road and Streetworks (NRSWA) Inspection:

London Borough of Hillingdon delivers its duties under NRSWA legislation through the London Permit Scheme. Inspections under the permit scheme will follow the sample inspection methodology for carrying out and assessing all Category A, B and C inspections. The three types of inspections used within the permit scheme are:

- Sample Inspections
- Defect Inspection
- Investigatory inspection

Inspections under the Permit Scheme will include processes for dealing with defective signing and guarding, reinstatements and improvement plans, together with any costs that may be recoverable, such as sample inspection fees from the Promoter.

Section 81 of the New Roads and Street Works Act 1991 places a duty on statutory undertakers to maintain their apparatus. Therefore, defects relating to missing, broken, rattling or worn inspection chamber covers, stop taps, hydrant covers and the like will be recorded on the Insight Symology system as part of the highway safety inspection and reported to the appropriate statutory undertaker for action and repair.

Section 71 of the New Roads and Street Works Act 1991 places a duty on statutory undertakers to reinstate excavations in the highway in line with prescribed specifications and standards of workmanship. Therefore, defects identified as part of the highway safety inspection that relate to statutory undertakers' reinstatements will be recorded on the 'Insight - Symology' software and reported to the appropriate statutory undertaker for action and repair. This will be managed through the database.

Section 74 inspections are related to works that should have been completed by a due date or have been notified as having done so. London Borough of Hillingdon run an overrun charging scheme alongside the Permit Scheme under Section 74 of NRSWA.

Ad hoc inspections are carried out to check for compliance with any permit conditions required under any particular permit, which are not included in any other inspections procedures.

10 Competence/Training

Highway Inspectors are suitably experienced and competent to carry out highway inspections as described in this procedure. It is expected that they will have a good working knowledge of relevant inspection procedures, safety requirements, highway materials and construction, together with knowledge of the use of appropriate inspection equipment and software.

They are also conversant with the relevant parts of the DfT's 'Chapter 8 - Traffic Signs Manual', highway working practices and ideally hold a nationally recognised qualification (i.e. NRASWA qualification). There is a clear need for consistency during the inspection process and training of staff is important. All personnel involved with safety inspections will be trained with the following objectives:-

- To understand the reason for, and importance of, carrying out highway safety inspections
- To gain appreciation of the whole process of highway inspections and policy.
- To ensure that there is a common understanding and interpretation of what constitutes a hazard on the highway in the context of safety inspection
- To analyse the risk matrix i.e. consequence of hazard/defect and probability of someone getting seriously injured.
- To be aware of the health and safety issues involved and the working methods that should be employed in carrying out the safety inspection.
- To be environmentally aware of the impact of their role
- To collect the safety inspection data in a form that allows the recording of the information to a common standard.
- To have a good understanding of suitable repair techniques
- To use Data Capture Devices, computer systems and databases as appropriate
- To fully understand each inspection type, inspection requirements, downloading procedures and input of repair details.
- To be fully conversant with the insurance claim procedures

Any training required will be delivered through the Maintenance Team or through specialist trainers as appropriate. This will take the form of:-

- Specific training (e.g. External courses, National Qualifications)
- On-the-job training, such as internal monitoring or on-site training
- Managers' introductions, briefings and team meetings
- Staff development appraisals

11 Changes to this Policy

This policy will be reviewed as and when necessary but especially when changes to either legislation or national guidance are introduced. Any changes to the policy would be subject to approval through the council's constitutional process. The operational or procedural aspects of the policy will be reviewed as and when necessary and changes, revisions or updates will be approved by the Head of Service- Highways. This enables, for example the addition of new defect types and impact ratings, changes to the type of repair methods used or changes to the codes used within the 'Insight - Symology' system for example.

12 Key Performance Indicators

Inspections carried out on schedule. The number of inspections carried out within the frequency set out in this policy. (Target 95%)

Contractor repair times. The number of repairs carried out by the repair contractor within the time specified in the order. (Target 98%)
